After all, it turns out that Slough is elected in Cincinnati. The fates are against the factions. They all united to beat Slough, if possible. They had a majority of twenty-five hundred at the Presidential chetion; now they have fallen into a minority. They are a failing set of individuals-growing smaller by degrees. and beautifully less. No wonder the voters felt a disgust to see German freedom-skriekers and Know Nothings hard at work together to defeat a Democrat.

IT TAKES A WATCHMAN TO CATCH A THIEF John B. Stoll had suspected that he sustained losses through the thieving propensities of his negro man, and the ingenuity of Officer Ray was taxed to detect the recipient of the stolen properety. He accordingly made his fare a shade or two darker by artificial means, and thur ingratiated himself into the confidence of Patrick Welsch and Catharine, his wife, who were the suspected parties, and ascertained that they had received of the negro a portion of the products of two hogs. In consideration of the responsibilities attending the support of five children, Judge Johnston, of the Police Court, dismissed Cathurine; but Pat was held to bail in $110 to an wer the char e.

expression, but no warrant for the pun. The A portion of the rooting upon the job departstyle is quite new to the fair authoress; but ment of our office was blown off, admitting a are not the verses pleasant to the delicate car, perfect flood of water into the third story, but and the sentiment musical to the tender heart? doing no heavy damage.

A brick stable attached to the Catholic Orphan Asylum, at the head of Jefferson street, was blown down, and four cows, in the building at the time, barely escaped destruction.

A little son of Mr. M'Grath, who lives in Wenzel street, was at play in the yard at the time, and was blown against a tree, aml pretty hadly hurt. A milk wagon, in the same locality was completely wrecked in the storm, the top being. blown in one direction and the body in another. We learn that, in addition to the accidents bove cunmerated, several buildings in the eastern portion of the city were unroofed in whole or in part.

The apparently strong fence which enclosed the lumber yard in Green street, below Wenzel, was levelled entirely to the ground, and large quantities of shingles and other light lumber were blown an incredible distance.

The roof was blown from the kitchen of Mr.

John G. Lyon's residence, in Chestnut street, and a portion of Collector Babbitt's residence was inroofed. Several houses in Broadway sustained serious damage, while some buildings n Tenth street were almost razed to the ground. The severity of the storm appeared to be in the direction indicated by the accidents above letailed, and it is difficult to account upon scientific theories for the stray gust which unroufed our office.

TERRIBLE Suicide. - Nicholas Dominic, a German tailor of this city, came to a terrible leath between 11 and 12 o'clock vesterday morning, in Shelby street, between Washington and Franklin. His death was caused by a pis tel shot, the ball entering at the corner of his month, mangling his face in a horrid manner, and causing his death almost immediately. From the best testimony elicited at the sitting of the Coroner's Jury, it appears the deceased committed suicide, though there is no reason |assigned for the commission of the act. The -um of $5 80, a ticket of admission to a German Turners' Association, and four pistol-balls, seisoned, and was applying his ferefuger in his fint was found in Pitt's Creek, near Salem, would doubt, and when an effort was made to
